DEPUTY CLERK

1 3. Upon information and belief, PIHMA Health operates an educational and 2 clinical program under the name Phoenix Institute of Herbal Medicine & Acupuncture. For 3 the purposes of this Complaint, the PIHMA entities are collectively referred to as 4 “PIHMA”.

5 4. At all times alleged herein, Catherine Niemiec (“Niemiec”) was a 6 representative, employee, agent, or servant of PIHMA and was acting for its benefit and 7 within the scope of her agency and employment.

8 5. PIHMA is vicariously liable for the acts of Niemiec as alleged herein.

9 6. Jurisdiction and venue are proper in this Court.

10 EASTERN MEDICINE OWNS THE REGISTERED TRADEMARK
11 DR. SHI XUE-MIN

12 7. Dr. Shi Xue-Min is a world renowned academician, author, and practitioner in 13 the field of acupuncture. Dr. Shi Xue-Min is popularly known as the “father of 14 acupuncture.”

15 8. Dr. Jing Liu is nationally certified and board licensed in acupuncture and 16 oriental medicine in California and Arizona; she holds a Ph.D. in natural health science and 17 traditional oriental medicine.

18 9. Dr. Liu is the sole member and manager of EMC.

19 10. Dr. Liu has a long-standing relationship with Dr. Shi Xue-Min and has 20 informally served as his representative and agent for many years.

21 11. On September 19, 2011, Dr. Shi Xue-Min signed an agreement authorizing 22 EMC to apply for and register the trademark “Dr. Shi Xue-Min.” See Consent to 23 Registration of Mark by Living Individual Person Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1052(c), attached
24 hereto as Exhibit A.

25 12. In October 2011, Dr. Shi Xue-Min entered into an Exclusive Authorized
26 Representative Agreement with Dr. Liu making Dr. Liu the exclusive authorized 27 representative and agent for Dr. Shi Xue-Min in the United States (the “Exclusive 28

1 Representative Agreement”), See Exclusive Representative Agreement attached hereto as
 2 Exhibit B.

3 13. Under the terms of the Exclusive Representative Agreement, Dr. Liu is the 4 sole representative for Dr. Shi in the United States with exclusive rights to:

- 5 • Certify and train providers of certain medical techniques and
- 6 regimens developed by Dr. Min (the “Services”);
- 7 • Protect and secure Dr. Min’s legal rights in the Services and
- 8 his name;
- 9 • Use Dr. Min’s name in association with the Services;
- 10 • Take all reasonable steps to protect the reputation of the
- 11 Services; and
- 12 • Protect the public from unauthorized practice of the Services
- 13 by unlicensed and uncertified providers. Id.

14 14. On September 27, 2011, EMC filed an application with the United States
 15 Patent and Trademark Office to register the mark “Dr. Shi Xue-Min” (the “Mark”). See 16 Federal Trademark Registration Certificate, attached hereto as Exhibit C.

17 15. The Mark was registered for “educational services, namely conducting 18 classes, courses, seminars, conferences, workshops, clinics, and demonstrations in the field
 19 of acupuncture and distribution of training material in connection therewith”. Id.

20 PIHMA IMPROPERLY USED THE DR. SHI XUE-MIN MARK

21 16. In 2010 Dr. Shi Xue-Min presented a series of educational presentations and 22 clinical services at PIHMA (the “2010 Program”).

23 17. The terms of Dr. Shi Xue-Min’s participation in the 2010 Program were 24 negotiated by Dr. Liu and EMC on behalf of Dr. Shi Xue-Min.

25 18. The parties did not execute a formal written contract for the 2010 Program.

26 19. In approximately July 2011, PIHMA expressed an interest in having Dr. Shi 27 Xue-Min return to PIHMA to be featured in another educational and clinical program (the 28 “2011 Program”).

1 20. The parties negotiated the terms of Dr. Shi Xue-Min's participation in the 2 2011 Program, including dates, travel logistics, compensation, practice insurance, and the 3 license/use of the Mark in connection with the program.

4 21. The parties agreed to formalize the terms of their agreement in a written 5 contract to address issues that arose in connection with the 2010 Program, confirm their 6 respective obligations, and protect their respective interests.

7 22. In early September 2011, PIHMA submitted a draft contract to EMC, which 8 contained terms that differed from the parties' oral discussions and were unacceptable to 9 EMC.

10 23. On September 23, 2011, EMC submitted its own proposed speaker contract to 11 PIHMA. PIHMA expressed concerns with various terms of the proposed speaker contract 12 and declined to sign the agreement.

13 24. Despite the absence of a formal agreement between the parties establishing the terms 14 of Dr. Shi Xue-Min's participation in the 2011 Program, PIHMA began advertising the 15 2011 Program and soliciting students and patients to participate. See PIHMA College &
16 Clinic September (2011) Newsletter, available at
17 <http://archive.constantcontact.com/fs048/1102602839818/archive/1107402805466.html>,

18 attached hereto as Exhibit D; See PIHMA College & Clinic October (2011) Newsletter, 19 available at

20 <http://archive.constantcontact.com/fs048/1102602839818/archive/1108067649351.html>,

21 attached hereto as Exhibit E.

22 25. Unable to reach a resolution on the terms of the agreement, on October 18,
23 2011, EMC provided written notice to PIHMA that it declined to enter the proposed contract
24 and that

25 "[a]s a result, PIHMA must cease any promotion, advertising, or 26 other publicity related to the services identified in the contract or 27 dissemination of any information concerning the subject matter and 28 parties to the contract. Please remove Dr. Liu and the proposed contract Speaker from the PIHMA website immediately."

1 See October 18, 2011 Letter from Colleen A. Lomax to Catherine Niemiec, attached hereto
2 as Exhibit F.

3 26. PIHMA disregarded EMC's directive to cease using Dr. Shi Xue-Min's name
4 in publications and materials. Niemiec insisted that PIHMA had performed its obligations
5 under the verbal contract, including advertising and promoting the 2011 Program.

6 27. In an October 24, 2011 letter, Ms. Niemiec acknowledged that "PIHMA's
7 reputation (or alternatively, Jing Liu's or Dr. Shi's reputation) could be harmed among its 8 students, faculty, and among the acupuncture college community at large (of which there are 9 over 60 institutions) by a controversy of this nature" attached hereto as Exhibit G.

10 28. On October 28, 2011, counsel for EMC again wrote to PIHMA noting
11 PIHMA's improper continued promotion of Dr. Shi Xue-Min's participation in the 2011
12 Program and again clarifying that PIHMA did not have a valid and enforceable contract
13 with EMC or Dr. Shi Xue-Min. See October 28, 2011 Letter from Colleen A. Lomax to 14 Catherine Niemiec, attached hereto as Exhibit H.

15 29. EMC invited PIHMA to submit a written contract offer to "re-start"
16 negotiations regarding Dr. Shi Xue-Min's participation in the 2011 Program. Id.

17 30. On October 31, 2011, PIHMA notified EMC that it had "decided to cease [its]
18 claim regarding a contract being formed between PIHMA and Eastern Medicine Center"
19 and confirmed that it would "no longer publicize the visit of Dr. Shi and Dr. Bian." See 20 October 31, 2011 Letter from Catherine Niemiec to Colleen A. Lomax, attached hereto as 21 Exhibit I.

22 31. Despite PIHMA's clear representation that it would cease promoting the 23 program and PIHMA's knowledge that Dr. Shi Xue-Min is a registered trademark, PIHMA
24 has continued to make available on its website materials improperly using the Mark. See 25 Exhibits D and E, available as of January 20, 2013.

26 32. Upon information and belief, the improper use of the Mark has diluted the 27 value of the Mark and has resulted in economic harm to EMC and improper economic 28 benefit to PIHMA.

COUNT ONE

(Trademark Infringement)

33. EMC hereby incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1-32 of the Complaint to the same extent as if they were fully restated herein.

34. The Lanham Act generally prohibits the use of a trademark or any false representation of origin in a manner that will likely cause confusion or deceive as to one's affiliation with a trademark owner. 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1).

35. PIHMA's unauthorized use of the Mark in connection with the promotion of its educational programs has caused EMC to lose revenue, has diluted or impaired the value of EMC's mark, and has enabled PIHMA to generate revenue that it would not otherwise have made.

36. Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117, EMC has the option of choosing between an action to recover "(1) Defendant's profits (2) any damages sustained by the Plaintiff, and (3) the cost of the action" or statutory damages of "not less than $1,000 or more than $200,000 per counterfeit mark."

37. Because PIHMA's infringement of EMC's registered Mark was "willful", the Court has the option of awarding treble damages under 15 U.S.C. § 1117(b) or statutory damages of "not more than $2 million per counterfeit mark."

WHEREFORE, EMC prays for judgment against PIHMA as follows:

- A. For damages in the amount of PIHMA's profits from the sale of educational programs or services promoted using the Mark, plus all damages sustained by EMC as a result of the infringement, said award to be trebled pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117(b);
- B. In the alternative, for statutory damages of "not more than $2 million per counterfeit mark";
- C. For the costs incurred by EMC in connection with this action, including

1 reasonable attorneys' fees; and

2 D. For all other relief deemed proper by the Court under the circumstances.

4 COUNT TWO

5 (Unfair Competition)

6 38. EMC hereby incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs
7 1-37 of the Complaint to the same extents if they were fully restated herein.

8 39. By promoting educational programs and services using the Dr. Shi Xue-Min
9 Mark, PIHMA has engaged in unfair competition under Arizona law.

10 40. As a direct result of PIHMA's unfair competition, EMC has lost potential
11 sales in the form of participation in educational and clinical programs legitimately 12 associated with Dr. Shi Xue-Min, has suffered a dilution of its registered Mark, and has 13 otherwise been damaged.

14 41. Upon information and belief, PIHMA has acted willfully, maliciously, and 15 with an actual intent to cause economic harm to EMC, thereby justifying an award of 16 punitive damages.

17 WHEREFORE, EMC prays for judgment against PIHMA as follows:

18 A. For compensatory damages in an amount to be proven at trial;

19 B. For pre- and post-judgment interest on the foregoing sum at the highest rate
20 permitted by law;

21 C. For punitive damages in an amount sufficient to punish PIHMA for its 22 wrongful conduct and to deter others from engaging in similar misconduct in 23 the future;

24
25 D. For the costs incurred by EMC in connection with this action, including 26 reasonable attorneys' fees; and

27 E. For all other relief deemed proper by the Court under the circumstances.

What and When to File:

- First Filing Deadline: You must file a Declaration of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) between the 5th and 6th years after the registration date. See 15 U.S.C. §§1058, 1141k. If the declaration is accepted, the registration will continue in force for the remainder of the ten-year period, calculated from the registration date, unless cancelled by an order of the Commissioner for Trademarks or a federal court.
- Second Filing Deadline: You must file a Declaration of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) and an Application for Renewal between the 9th and 10th years after the registration date.* See 15 U.S.C. §1059.

Requirements in Successive Ten-Year Periods*

What and When to File:

- You must file a Declaration of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) and an Application for Renewal between every 9th and 10th-year period, calculated from the registration date.*

Grace Period Filings*

The above documents will be accepted as timely if filed within six months after the deadlines listed above with the payment of an additional fee.

The United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) will NOT send you any future notice or reminder of these filing requirements.

ATTENTION MADRID PROTOCOL REGISTRANTS: The holder of an international registration with an extension of protection to the United States under the Madrid Protocol must timely file the Declarations of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) referenced above directly with the USPTO. The time periods for filing are based on the U.S. registration date (not the international registration date). The deadlines and grace periods for the Declarations of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) are identical to those for nationally issued registrations. See 15 U.S.C. §§1058, 1141k. However, owners of international registrations do not file renewal applications at the USPTO. Instead, the holder must file a renewal of the underlying international registration at the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization, under Article 7 of the Madrid Protocol, before the expiration of each ten-year term of protection, calculated from the date of the international registration. See 15 U.S.C. §1141j. For more information and renewal forms for the international registration, see <http://www.wipo.int/madrid/en/>.

NOTE: Fees and requirements for maintaining registrations are subject to change. Please check the USPTO website for further information. With the exception of renewal applications for registered extensions of protection, you can file the registration maintenance documents referenced above online at <http://www.uspto.gov>.

Please note that U.S. Customs & Border Protection (CBP), a bureau of the Department of Homeland Security, maintains a trademark recordation system for marks registered at the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Parties who register their marks on the Principal Register may record these marks with CBP, to assist CPB in its efforts to prevent the importation of goods that infringe registered marks. The recordation database includes information regarding all recorded marks, including images of these marks. CBP officers monitor imports to prevent the importation of goods bearing infringing marks, and can access the recordation database at each of the 317 ports of entry.

CBP's Intellectual Property Rights e-Recordation (IPRR) system, located at <https://apps.cbp.gov/e-recordations/>, allows right holders to electronically file IPR recordation applications, thus significantly reducing the amount of time normally required to process paper applications. Some additional benefits of the system include:

- Elimination of paper applications and supporting documents.
- Copies of the certificate issued by the registering agency (U.S. Patent and Trademark Office or the Copyright Office) are retained by the right holder, not submitted to CBP.
- Payment by credit card (preferred), check or money order.
- Ability to upload images of the protected work or trademark, thus obviating the need to send samples to CBP.
- Reduced time from filing of the application to enforcement by field personnel.

Information about how to obtain a recordation, and about CBP's Intellectual Property Rights border enforcement program, is available at CBP's web site, www.cbp.gov.

WARNING FROM THE USPTO CONCERNING UNOFFICIAL TRADEMARK SOLICITATIONS

Please be aware that private companies not associated with the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) often use trademark application and registration information from the USPTO's databases to mail or e-mail trademark-related solicitations. These may include offers: (1) for legal services; (2) for trademark monitoring services; (3) to record trademarks with U.S. Customs and Border Protection; and (4) to "register" trademarks in the company's own private registry.

These companies may use names that resemble the USPTO name, including, for example, the terms "United States" or "U.S." Increasingly, some of the more unscrupulous companies attempt to make their solicitations mimic the look of official government documents rather than the look of a typical commercial or legal solicitation by emphasizing official government data like the USPTO application serial number, the registration number, the International Class(es), filing dates, and other information that is publicly available from USPTO records. Many refer to other government agencies and sections of the U.S. Code. Most require "fees" to be paid.

Some applicants and registrants have reported paying fees to these private companies, mistakenly thinking that they were paying required fees to the USPTO. So, be sure to read trademark-related communications carefully before making a decision about whether to respond. All official correspondence will be from the "United States Patent and Trademark Office" in Alexandria, VA, and if by e-mail, specifically from the domain "@uspto.gov."

If you receive a trademark-related solicitation that you believe is deceptive, you may file an on-line consumer complaint with the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"), at www.FTC.gov. Although the FTC does not resolve individual consumer complaints, it may institute, as the nation's consumer protection agency, investigations and prosecutions based on widespread complaints about particular companies or business practices.

The USPTO encourages recipients of misleading communications to contact the USPTO about them by emailing TMFeedback@uspto.gov. When notifying the USPTO about a misleading communication, please also:

1. Include a copy of the misleading communication (including the envelope it came in) if available;
2. Indicate whether the recipient thought the communication was an official U.S. government communication or had to ask an attorney or the USPTO whether it was legitimate;
3. Indicate whether fees were mistakenly paid in response to the communication and, if so, provide a copy of the cancelled check. Please also specify what services, if any, were provided in exchange for the payment made.

September is National Pain Awareness Month

Chinese practitioners believe that pain and illness is caused by imbalances in the human body. The Chinese concept of good health occurs when energy (called qi) flows through the body in certain patterns (meridians or energy-carrying channels) bringing total balance. When the flow of Qi is stagnant or blocked, pain and illness occur.

Acupuncture is the part of an ancient healing method of inserting fine needles into particular points (acu-points) to regulate flow of qi (vital energy) along pathways known as meridians. This method was developed in China 3000 years ago. Acupuncturist identifies the affected meridian and uses disposable thin stainless steel needles to correct the imbalance(s) in the human body by restoring qi flow to normal.

Acupuncture is commonly used to reduce pain. The scientific

Yan Hu Suo -
Corydalis Rhizome

"The Pain Reliever"

Yan hu suo, also known as corydalis, primary use is pain relief. Entering the Heart, Liver, Lung, and Stomach channels with bitter and warm qualities, it invigorates blood and promotes the movement of Qi to alleviate pain. Yan hu suo has analgesic, anti-inflammatory and muscle-relaxant effects. It can relieve pain in all parts of the body including chest, epigastric, abdominal and gynecological pain. Yan hu suo also treats pain in the arms and legs and helps reduce masses such as benign tumors.

base for pain relieve is that acupuncture decreases pain by increasing the release of the large amount of the chemicals that block pain, called endorphins, which are the body's natural pain killers. WebMd (2007) describes the process as, "The stimulated by the acupuncture needle muscle sends a message to the central nervous system (the brain and spinal cord), causing the release of endorphins (morphine-like chemicals produced in our own bodies during times of pain or stress). Endorphins block the message of pain from being delivered to the brain."

The research performed by Simon Strauss MBBS, Dip. Acupuncture shows the following results:

According to the 2007 National Health Interview Survey, which included a comprehensive survey of complementary alternative medicine (CAM) use by Americans, 1.4 percent of respondents (an estimated 3.1 million Americans) said they had used acupuncture in the past year. A special analysis of acupuncture data from an earlier NHIS found that pain or musculoskeletal complaints accounted for 7 of the top 10 conditions for which people use acupuncture. Back pain was the most common, followed by joint pain, neck pain, severe headache/migraine, and recurring pain (NCCAM Publication No. D435, 2009).

Wu Wei Zi - Schisandra Fruit/Seed

"Five Flavored Seed"

Wu Wei Zi is an intriguing stabilizing and binding herb that can be used to treat chronic cough and night sweats, as well as calm the spirit. Entering the Kidney, Lung, and Heart channels it is unique in that it contains all five flavors (as indicated by its name)-sweet, sour, acrid, bitter and salty. Thus it can provide effects to various organs or systems. Wu wei zi constrains leakage of lung qi, enriches Kidney yin, inhibits sweating while generating body fluids, and quiets the spirit and calms the Heart. Laboratory research on wu wei zi has demonstrated a strengthening of heart function by improving diastolic and systolic actions. Systolic contractions are stronger and diastolic expansion is more complete.

Acupuncture and Addiction

Addiction has been defined as physical and psychological dependence on psychoactive substances (for example alcohol, tobacco, heroin and other drugs) which cross the blood-brain barrier once ingested, temporarily altering the chemical milieu of the brain.

People who have addiction problems cannot deal with the problem on their own. Many detox rehabilitation facilities are able to help with the problem and acupuncture is widely known as a very effective supplement to counseling offered by the detox facilities.

Both traditional full body acupuncture and auricular acupuncture have been used to treat people who have problems with addictions to drugs, alcohol and cigarettes. The Practical application of acupuncture in the traditional drug treatment setting evolved at New York's City Lincoln hospital during the 1970's. The treatments were proven to be very effective and in 1985, the National Acupuncture Detoxification Association (NADA) was founded to extend

The NADA protocol technique aims to relieve withdrawal symptoms and craving and to improve general relaxation and mental and physical functioning; the acupuncture treatment aids in patient detoxification. It does so by supporting the main organs of elimination in the body, speeding the body's ability to rid itself of toxins. Treatment improves mental clarity and ability to focus. It also provides the patient with a sense of calmness and serenity.

Dear Ms. Lomax,

Thank you for your letter. I believe there is a misunderstanding with regard to the agreement. We have a verbal contract (which is a repeat of the verbal contract we had last year and had fully executed). It was agreed to at the end of Dr. Shi and Dr. Bian's visit last year to our campus, and was later reaffirmed in the summer of this year. This is evidenced by our letter of August 1st asking for them to visit Arizona, for the purposes of their Immigration.

What I believe you have before you as a written contract is actually the proposed substitution for the verbal contract. The purpose of the proposed substitute contract was to more fully define the terms and issues that arose in controversy in the previous year (e.g. late arrival, changing of dates and times, food preferences, etc.), as well as to address Jing Liu's concern with regard to a proposed trademark. Jing Liu also had her own proposed substitute contract (which she was using as the original contract for other institutions). Negotiations apparently stalled after we learned that Jing Liu was applying for her own CEU approval. We tried to explain to Jing and her trademark attorney about the limitations on the abilities of Drs. Shi and Bian to practice without a license when not under an approved school or professional organization (not including an approving agency)(see ARS Title 32, Chapter 39, Subsection 32-3921, paragraph B (3)). We became concerned about regulatory compliance since it was unclear whether we were also expected to oversee Drs. Shi and Bian in their performance of acupuncture in that situation as well, for which we had no knowledge, control or oversight.

Regardless, as it stands, we still have an original, active verbal contract for which we have been executing our side of the agreement. To date we have performed the same conduct as in last year's contract:

- a) Prepared and submitted important and necessary letters of invitation (similar to last year's) to support the immigration visas for Drs. Shi and Bian to Arizona;
- b) Established and advertised dates for clinical grand rounds with Jing Liu's full knowledge and acquiescence;
- c) Prepared and submitted application for continuing education credit to the Arizona State Board of Examiners, which is now on the agenda for approval at this month's board meeting;
- d) Recruited and scheduled paying patients and students for the November dates;
- e) Publicly announced and advertised the presence of Drs. Shi and Bian at PIHMA, the notices of which Jing Liu and her staff received, acknowledged and were aware, and which was made public to the other colleges in the United States;
- f) and expended considerable hours of labor in preparing the advertising, marketing materials, preparation of the state application, and scheduling.

We have relied sufficiently on the past contract and the representations of Jing Liu such that this contract cannot equitably be denied, as is also supported by the theories of quasi-contract and promissory estoppel. Moreover, we have acted in good faith in our performance for this agreement. There has also been unjust enrichment to Jing by our consideration of writing letters of invitation for immigration that helped make it possible for Drs. Shi and Bian to come to the Arizona (and which we take very seriously as we promised and fully expected to vouch for them in our care in the Arizona), and in the state application for continuing education approval where we agreed to provide the legal and regulatory oversight of the unlicensed practitioners under our institutional license and insurance. Without such permission from the state board, they would not be able to legally practice acupuncture.

Moreover, since it is foreseeable that we would take these actions in advance of their visit at the urgings of Jing Liu to secure and prepare for the visit, it would be exceedingly unfair to deny the contract which was under the same circumstances and preparation as last year. Acceptance is demonstrated by an uncontested acquiescence to our ongoing advertising and efforts similar to the past.

Please note that in addition to expended costs and labor, PIHMA's reputation (or alternatively, Jing Liu's or Dr. Shi's reputation) could be harmed among its students, faculty and among the acupuncture college community at large (of which there are over 60 institutions) by a controversy of this nature. We are concerned that when Jing Liu met with the acupuncture schools in Tucson and Dr. Andrew Weil's representatives, we learned that she misrepresented or maligned the reputation of PIHMA in striving to secure a substitute institution in her attempt to have Drs. Shi and Bian legally treat patients in her clinic.

From your letter, it appears that it is Jing Liu's desire to breach and cancel that contract. Please advise if this is so in order that we might proceed with appropriate legal action for damages. You were copied on today's email to Jing Liu in which we expressed our willingness to still work with her to resolve this situation and come to a mutually beneficial agreement. At this point, we will wait to hear from you and simultaneously proceed with our state application this Wednesday at the Acupuncture Board of Examiners meeting, presuming that we can still come to some agreement. Please note that the window of opportunity to amend our application to include our oversight of and partnership with Eastern Medicine's continuing education course will close at that time.

Sincerely,

Catherine

Re: Eastern Medicine Center – Dr. Jing Liu

Dear Ms. Niemiec:

On October 18, 2011, I advised you in writing that Dr. Liu and Eastern Medicine Center would not accept PIHMA's proposed written contract offer. It appears that you and PIHMA have ignored that communication and continued to publicize the matters and services addressed in PIHMA's proposed offer of contract as if Dr. Liu and Eastern Medicine Center had accepted PIHMA's contract offer. To the extent that you and PIHMA have done so, you have done so without any reasonable basis in fact for doing so.

I received your October 24, 2011 correspondence contending that PIHMA's written contract offer was a substitution for a verbal contract you believed you made in 2010. Although your correspondence discusses your legal theories to support your belief of contract existence and alleges activities that you and PIHMA have undertaken in reliance on that belief, your letter does not discuss the underlying factual basis for your belief that a verbal contract existed other than that "we did it this way last year." However, PIHMA's introduction of a substitute written contract makes it clear that PIHMA did not in fact want to proceed as it did last year.

In addition, the facts are that, at every point at which PIHMA could have obtained an agreement from Dr. Liu and Eastern Medicine to accept PIHMA's contract offer, PIHMA's own conduct and contract demands made it impossible for the parties to reach an agreement. PIHMA repeatedly failed to return the registration form that Eastern Medicine had sent to PIHMA on July 16, 2011. PIHMA repeatedly failed to submit its deposit to hold dates requested by PIHMA for Drs. Shi and Bian. PIHMA repeatedly failed to provide Eastern Medicine with a registration/invitation letter despite repeated requests from Eastern Medicine to do so. Other acupuncture schools like PIHMA that are hosting Drs. Shi and Bian in 2011 had no problem complying with these requirements.

Last year PIHMA agreed to cover malpractice insurance for Dr. Shi and Dr. Bian. Despite repeated requests from Dr. Liu to confirm that PIHMA would cover malpractice insurance for Drs. Shi and Bian as it did last year, you failed to confirm that contract condition this year. PIHMA's written contract offer to Dr. Liu excluded this term. During contract negotiations, you would not agree to permit Drs. Shi and Bian to work with students and patients at the clinic of Dr. Liu, a currently licensed Arizona acupuncturist whom you have listed as an adjunct PIHMA faculty member. Last year, however, PIHMA did agree to Drs. Shi and Bian working with patients and students at Dr. Liu's clinic during the PIHMA sponsorship period.

As for the "evidence" of reliance that you proffer in your October 24, 2011 letter, any letters PIHMA ultimately wrote were written long after letters written by others that may have been necessary for Drs. Shi and Bian to obtain visas to be in the United States. The fact that PIHMA selected dates that it wished to host Drs. Shi and Bian did not create a contract absent the many other sponsorship requirements, repeatedly requested by Eastern Medicine, which PIHMA failed to respond to or to satisfy. It is unclear when PIHMA submitted its CEU application to the Arizona State Board of Examiners. It appears to have been submitted in recognition that Dr. Liu and Eastern Medicine were not going to accept PIHMA's substitute contract offer. To the extent that PIHMA recruited patients and students, publicized any dates, or invested time and effort in advertising and marketing materials, it did so fully aware that you, on behalf of PIHMA, had already failed to meet deadlines for registration, invitation letters and deposits that other schools had; that you, on behalf of PIHMA, were in fact seeking to change the arrangement from 2010 significantly and were offering a substitute written agreement to replace it. Based on the facts and circumstances, Dr. Liu is willing to let a judge or jury decide whether PIHMA's alleged reliance is reasonable, if it must come to that.

As I indicated to you by e-mail, I did receive your October 26, 2011 e-mail correspondence relaying your interpretation of the results of the Board meeting on October 26, 2011. On behalf of PIHMA, your assistant made it clear to the Board that PIHMA had no reasonable basis for believing that it had an agreement with Dr. Liu and Eastern Medicine. PIHMA, according to your assistant, was fully prepared to move forward with its CEU using other acupuncturists for PIHMA's November CEU.

I know that Dr. Liu feels very loyal to you and PIHMA. She does not want to escalate this matter further. However, she has a very full schedule today and will not have time to turn her attention to contract negotiation until Monday. If you wish to send a written contract offer to me that includes the same terms that PIHMA agreed to for the 2010 visit of Drs. Shi and Bian, permitting Dr. Liu to work in her clinic alongside Drs. Shi and Bian with patients and students during the PIHMA sponsorship period, and which includes PIHMA advance payments for actual expenses incurred by Eastern Medicine and malpractice insurance for Drs. Shi and Bian, that would be a meaningful point from which to re-start contract negotiations. I am certain that Dr. Liu will consider such a written offer seriously.

Very truly yours,

Dear Ms. Lomax,

Upon review of your correspondence and our meeting with our board and legal counsel, we have decided to cease our claim regarding a contract being formed between PIHMA and Eastern Medicine Center. Similar to Dr. Liu, we do not wish to escalate this matter any further. Accordingly we will no longer publicize the visit of Dr. Shi and Dr. Bian. We regret that relations have deteriorated and hope that in the future we can rebuild goodwill among the parties.

Sincerely,
